Dearest Senator Baker:

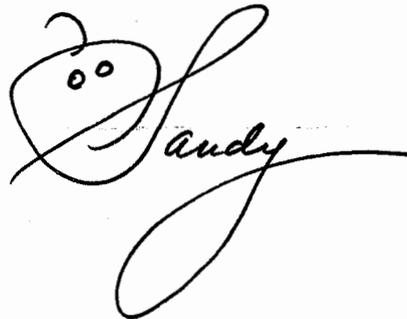

When I wrote my first letter to you in Sept. of last year, I told you that I thought you were a man of destiny with your number about to come up again. That was before the "Irangate" mess. But I had such a strong feeling about your future, I had to write you.

It is seldom in life that you get the opportunity to legitimately say "I told you so" that I am now touching the stars. But as I wrote you in my last (unanswered letter) trying to piece this all together will be like nailing jello to the wall.

However, I am so encouraged by having you in such a high position of government at this time, that (in a way) it made this mess at least fateful to you and brought you out of your own rose garden again.

I am however, slightly disappointed (but not for long) as I had devised a new recipe for "Chicken Ala King" to pass along to all California chefs for "those fund-raising campaign dinners".

With much luck, "warm thinks" and affection,

Dear Mr. Baker;

I first meet you as a sixteen year old journalism student at the airport in Knoxville, Tennessee. I had been invited there to meet you by someone on your staff. I have followed your career with a critical eye ever since. My father, Aaron G. Harber, is the Chairman of the Democratic Party of Anderson County. I am also a past president of the Young Democrats of Anderson County. I have never found you to be less than an honest and admirable. You are a man of which the state of Tennessee can be proud. These are strong statments from a Democrat.

The task you now have before you is formidable. I wish you luck and hope. I know you will do whatever is necessary to restore our faith in a system that can and does work.

Sincerely,
