Dear Howard,

Mar 22, 1987

UHB-1 I am writing you this letter because I have a message for you. In every system God put someone in the system to break the system. You are the one that God put in the system. How do you break the system? By not going along with it. You will be challenged to do something that is wrong and against your system. Stand up for right and God will be with you. This is the time to stand up and be counted.

God's plan is for everyone. To experience the good way and the bad way then choose which way you want to go. The good way promises you nothing and gives you everything. Freedom. The other way promises you everything and gives you nothing but despair. God is for everyone. The other way benefits no one.

God knows you can do it. You have been tested many times and have come through for good ways. God knows there is good teachings mixed in with bad teachings that we are confused. That is why he sends a guardian angel when we are in a bind.

We know that fear knocks out God and this is what will be used on you. When you feel this coming on Ask for God's help. He will send help from above.
A guardian angel.

You will be opening the door for good ways to come in and the young to come in and help.
They are strong in God and will show us the way.

We will be rooting for you to come through. We love you for hanging in there when the going got tough. As the saying goes when the going gets tough the tough get going.

God Bless You + Take Care with love

Anne Capen

We will be praying for you. Pray that God's way comes through

Senator Howard Baker, Presidential Adviser
The White House
Washington, D.C., 20500

Dear Senator Baker;

For some years I have sorrowed that we no longer have great statesmen in the United States who put their country first rather than the political gains they may selfishly enjoy in their re-elections to Congress with all the built-in freebies the citizens of this country are denied. I have been increasingly discouraged with the burgeoning power of bureaucracy in Washington at the expense of the American people, because politicians, not statesmen, govern us.

I need not remind you what Mr. James Madison, a modest unassuming man, who was one of our great Presidents, stated in "The Federalist Papers": "It may be a reflection on human nature, that such devices (constitutions) should be necessary to control the abuses of government. But what is government itself, but the greatest of all reflections on human nature. If men were angels, no government would be necessary. If angels were to govern men, neither external or internal controls on government would be necessary. In framing a government which is to be administered by men over men, the great difficulty lies in this: you must first enable the government to control the governed; and in the next place oblige it to control itself. A dependence on the people is, no doubt, the primary control on the government; but experience has taught mankind the necessity of auxiliary precautions." Would you agree with me, Senator Baker, that two hundred years later Mr. Madison's statements are still a Delphic oracle?

While I have been a firm supporter of President Reagan, I have had the feeling he has been badly advised on many occasions during his presidency. In your acceptance of the position as his adviser you have risen above our petty bi-partisan government of today. At long last I am assured that we have a statesman in you, Senator Baker. Once again America may re-establish itself as one of the greatest Nations because you have shown yourself to be the statesman we have needed for so long. May I congratulate you and say, in ending, that you will be a great President, too, in the near future of our country, God willing. With all best wishes for your success in your present position of endeavours to keep the office of the President firmly on track.

Cordially yours,

Harriet J. Phelps

Dear Mr. Baker:

When I had the pleasure to meet you at the American Embassy in Buenos Aires, you were thinking to run for President, when and if Mister Reagan was not running -

Now that you are at the White House, I hope to be able to greet you there, as President, when the actual Term of President Reagan expires -

Just to remind you who I am; I was the one who sent regards to my good friend Jesse Helms for whom you were campaigning in North Carolina -

Wishing you success in your

Dear Mr. Baker:

This letter is written to merely say Congratulations as our new Chief of Staff.

I would like to briefly introduce myself. Abshire on the Iran-Contra affair.

Mr. Baker, you have my Support along with the support of so many other Americans. I believe in expressing my opinion and support, although I am but one, I am one that counts!

Again, Congratulations.

I am writing primarily to congratulate you on being appointed as the new Chief of Staff. I know that this is not the position you would have most liked to have gained. Still I feel reassured by your presence in that post. I am quite certain that you will be able to carry out the duties of your new office with a style and efficiency that should prove very beneficial to both the President and the country.

Also, although it is agreeably not the most desirable position, it is a relatively stable one, or should prove to be, for an attempt at the presidency in the near future.

Sincerely,

John E. Newton
